TRIPLE A TEAMS WON.

Defeated Office Men in Fast Hockey Game Last Evening.

In a fast hockey game at the Ice Palace evening, the Triple A team defeated the Office Men's representatives by close score of 1 to 0, the singl. goal being scored early in the first half after a warm struggle near the Office Men's goal. From start to finish the game was hard fought. The teams were much more evenly matched than the sevens which met at the Ice Palace last Monday and the game possessed more interest, in consequence. Not antil the close of the game was victory certain, and had it not been for prompt work by Dwight Evans, who played goal on the Triple A team, the score might well have been in favor of the opposing team.

Evans showed up to advantage last night, playing a better game at goal than he did as cover point on the Water Polo team last Manday. Two or three fast shots for the goal were stopped in near fashion by quick work on his part and on several occasions he sent the puck far down the loc when his goal seemed in danger.

Both Fishers showed up well for the Triple A's, B. Fisher, the forward, doing some excellent work. The latter got one or two hard falls in the course of the game, being mixed up in all the hard plays, but got off scatheless each time. Coke played a good game for the Office Men at cover point, but received a stunning fall in the second half, which semed to take the wind set of him temporarily.

Some sharp rallies were made by both close score of 1 to 0, the single goal being second half, which semed to take the second half, which semed to take the second from temporarily.

Some sharp relies were made by both sides in the closing half and the game end-d without either side scoring for the last saif. The line-up of the teams follows:

Spalding Attorney Ordered to Give Up Documents-Injunction to Stand Until New Trial-Temporary Freedman Victory.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Dec. 20.-When the contending elements in the National League of Baseball Clubs appeared before Justice Scott in the Supreme Court to-day, the courthouse corridors were througed with baseball enthustasts, and not all gained admission to the took but a few minutes to bring the matter to an issue, and Justice Scott continued the injunction against Mr. Spalding by consent of the latter's counsel, until the case comes to trial. Incidentally, Mr. Spalding's attorney agreed to restore to N. E. Young, president and secretary of the National League, the trunk filled with Spalding faction had obtained possession.

The temporary injunction issued by Judge Leventritt, ordered that Mr. Spalding be restricted from exercising the power of president of the league. This order now stands until a trial is had.

Then the lawyers appeared before the court, Mr. Kiddle, who is attorney for Mr. Spalding, sought to have the provision calling for the return of the documents of the National League to N. E. Young stricken from Judge Leventritt's order. He said that the action was brought to determine Mr. Spalding's title to the National League presidency, and so far as that question was concerned he believed that the matter would better stand over until the trial of the case, and consented to the continuance of the temporary injunction.

"Not only," said Mr. Kiddle, "does the order restrain Mr. Spalding from exercising the powers of president of the League to which position we believe to was legally elected, but he was ordered to turn over to N. E. Young certain funds, papers, records and documents which he came into possession of in the true discharge of his distess as president of the League 1 nsk that the continued order be amended so that Mr. Spalding be enjoined from surrendering these documents and papers to anybody."

John J. Adams, counsel for N. E. Young, said he had unsuccessfully tried to serve Mr. Spalding with papers in the injunction proceedings.

proceedings.

"Mr. Spalding is right here in New York," said Mr. Kiddle, "and can be found any time."

Delancey Nicol, counsel for Mr. Freedman, said he would never consent to the notification proposed in behalf of Mr. Spalding ing. Thereupon, Mr. Niddle consented to the original order of Judge Leventritt, and Justice Scott continued the injunction. Mr. Spalding will return to Mr. Young the trunk and the documents that it contained.

It was learned that the case would be placed on the calendar for trial. No date can be set, and in some circles it was asserted that the case would never come to trial. In the meantime, Spalding is president of the National League. He cannot, however, perform the duties of the office.

Andrew Freedman, when seen after the decision had been anonunced, remarked: "I have nothing to say. The action of the Court speaks for itself."

It will be some time before the affairs of the League are straightened out.

It is well assured that Dineen, the Boston plicher, will jump to the American League. If the baseball enthusiasts of Boston can swallow the doese, those in the remainder of the country will have to do so. The American League blacklist has lost all list terror. President Soden of the Boston club says regarding the present situation: "I really do not see how Mr. Spalding can carry out his plans. If he had not been so precipitate I am sure I could have brought Mr. Freedman around all right. It was indiscreet for Spalding to cems out against Freedman, for I now fear that the gap between the two can never be bridged. I veted against any motion to proceed to an election until the report of the directors had been acted upon. Thereupon Mr. Spalding opened war upon Preedman, I had been working upon Freedman, and I think would have prevailed upon im to vote for Spalding as chairman of the regents. We had satisfied curselves that the National League could dispense with a president, and it was the intention to elect A. G. Spalding president of the directors and N. E. Young secretary and treasur

Spalding's attorneys also said their client would give up the papers, funds and records of the league.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR LOCAL BOXING.

Indications Seem to Point to Re vival of High-Class Matches in This City.

Now that Chief Kiely has practically stated that he will not oppose boxing bouts conducted before regularly organized clubs with a bona-fide membership list prospects for the sport in this city have again become bright. When the Chief's edict went into effect six weeks ago, the game was beginning to flourish here as it rever had before, and stopping the sport was regretted by every lover of good boxing. So long as high-class bouts are conducted there is little likelihood of further interference from the police, to judge from Chief-Kiely's remarks. What he objects to is the class of contests to be witnessed when two sluggers with no knowledge of the game get into the ring and pound each other into unconsciousness. High-class exhibitions between scientific men in good condition are not likely to be opposed. It is dub bouts of the Bellerson-Niese cort that have killed the game everywhere, and if promoters would confine themselves to high-class matches they would not meet with a fraction of the opposition they now encounter. Champion-hip contests between encounter. Championship contests between high-class men are often opposed, but this is largely because of the opportunity for notoriety given those who endeavor to stop the bouts.

Knockouts may happen in bouts like the Forbes-Daugherty aftair, but between men of that sort no necident is likely to happen. Daugherty was put completely out, yet was as good as ever in ten minutes. And if bouts of this class alone hat been pulled off here it is safe to say the Chief would not have interfered in the first place.

George Siler's decision in the Yanger-Bernstein light was the subject of considerable criticism among many of those who witnessed the battle, and comments upon the matter appear in several Chicago papers. One criticism reads as follows:

"The general impression among those who sat back from the ring was that Bernstein has the best of it for five rounds and that the shade was a bit too great to allow Yanger's work to even it up in the last round.

Yanger's work to even it up in the ast round.

"Now," said one man, "when Siler decided in the Shorty Ahearn-Bartley fight, in which Bartley was knocked out in the last eight seconds of the last round, after having the best of it by a wide margin for five and marly six rounds, that it was Bartley's fight, there was a how! I figure that Bernstein sent Yanger's head back so often that he had the same kind of a shade, and that Yanger couldn't even it up in one lone round unless he scored a knockout."

On the other hand, comment on Yanger's showing was as follows:

"The face blows show up fancy and look like killers, but a good, stiff body blow is just as dangerous. The crowd didn't see Yanger's punches that landed clean in the stomach region, yet they must have had effect or Yanger would never have worn Bernstein down in the sixth round the way he did. You can't say that Bernstein got tired just from his own exertions with that occasional left and right."

appeared stated in the sporting columns that the decision was a good one, however; so the criticisms favoring Bernstein were probably taken from adherents of that fighter.

Both the Forbes boys figured in battles Thursday, Harry defeating Billy Rotchford in Chicago by knocking him out in the first round, wille Clarence fought a draw with Jack O'Keefe in the Convention Hall, Kansas City. From all accounts, Clarence was going much the best at the colse of his bout and seemed to have o'Keefe tired. Harry Forbes knocked out Rotchford after the first round was two minutes and fifty the first round was two minutes and fifty seconds old by that same right-arm blow which proved so disastrous to Danny Daugherty. He knocked Rotchford down which proved so disastrous to Danny Daugherty. He knocked Rotchford down three times before landing the decisive blow, and appeared to have all the best of the battle. Rotchford was expected to make a better showing than he did, even against such a wonderful little fighting machine as Forbes, but he has been fighting so frequently since his return to the ring and got such a shaking up in his battle with Sayers last Monday that he probably needs a rest. Clarence Forbes weighed ten pounds less than OKeefe, and the extra weight is probably what gave OKeefe the advantage in the first fourteen rounds. In the round he knocked Forbes down with a right to the jaw, only to have Clarence jump up and rush matters to the close of the bout. OKeefe's jabs are said to have bruised Forbes considerably, although Clarence was getting the best of the fight at the close.

Charles H. Hauchton, president of the Charles H. Haughton, president of the West End Club, arrived from Chicago yesterday morning and is confident that the White-Bernstein battle will produce a great contest. He was greatly impressed with Bernstein's showing in the bout with Yanger, and states that Bernstein's showing was not altogether given justice in the reports of the fight.

"Bernstein landed on Yanger's face every time he led with his left," he said, "and he simply wore his arm out punching Benny. Every time that Yanger would come in with his body blows, Bernstein would drop his arm and block the greater portion of their force.

"The fight was a succession of leads and lands by Hernstein, of rushes by Yanger, and of blocks by Bernstein, Joe wore himself down simply by punching Yanger. I do not think he was knocked down, as was reported; instead, he slipped suidenly and did not try to get up, as it would have exposed him to a knockout blow. Bernstein a arm was practically useless in the last round from his punching Yanger's head, and he made a comparatively poor showing."

Haughton new has articles with heavy forfeits alrendy signed for the match between Yanger and the winner of the White-Bernstein heat. There was a suspicion in Chicago that Yanger's party did not want any of White's game and that obstacles were thrown in the way of the match by the Slasher's party. Signatures were finally obtained for a match between Yanger and the winner of the Bernstein-White bout.

The Yanger party refused to meet White on New Year's Day, claiming that their man would not have time to fit himself. They finally shared articles, however, but it is said that these were only obtained under considerable pressure.

AL NEILL DEFEATS TOM TRACY.

Australian Fighter Stood Up Under Terrible Punishment. Portland, Ore., Dec. 20,-Al Neill of Sar Francisco and Tem Tracy of Australia last night met in the ring for the third time at the Exposition building, and Neill won in the eighteenth round. In the first round Neill landed on Tracy's chin with his right and cut a gash an inch in length, from which the blood flowed in a stream.

During the first five rounds Neill jabbed Tracy on the right eye with his left, and all but closed that member. After the fifth round Tracy did some effective work, and during the next eight rounds landed hard with his right on Neill's stomach.

The fighting was fast and Tracy proved to be a good infighter, but Neill kept up his jabbing in the face. In the seventeenth Neill commenced to uppercut Tracy, and at the end of the round Tracy appeared tired.

In the eighteenth Tracy landed on Neill's head and Neill came back with an uppercut. After a clinch Neill landed with his right on Tracy's jaw and he went down. Tracy was unable to respond to the call of time and Referee Joe Acton gave the fight to Neill.

the patient goes to the ordinary physician, who lacks the teachings of experience in specialty practice or because he comes in contact with too many belts, specifics, free trial treatments, electro-medical combinations or similar devices, which do not, or cannot, cure diseases and weaknesses peculiar to men.

Neglected or badly treated cases of VARICOCELE, STRICTURE CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, NERVO-SEXUAL DEBILITY or allied troubles require the deep knowledge, the expert skill and the vast experience that are possessed only by the physician who gives his whole time and attention to such diseases.

My professional life and labor for the past twenty-three years have been earnestly devoted to these special maladies of men alone, and I can truthfully say that I have originated and perfected for their cure various forms of treatment which have been uniformly successful in numberless cases where success was before and by other doctors deemed impossible. What I have done for so many other men I can do for you. If you will fully and freely investigate my methods of cure you will not doubt or question their superiority over all other forms of treatment.

Eurified and restored to perfect health and Varicocele.

Under my treatment this insidious discase rapidly disappears. Pain ceases al-most instantly. The pools of stagnant blood are driven from the dilated veins, and all soreness and swelling quickly subside. Every indication of varicocele soon van-ishes, and in its stead comes the pride, the power and the pleasure of perfect health and restored manhood.

Stricture.

My cure dissolves the stricture completely and removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, allays all inflammation, stops every unnatural discharge, reduces the prostate gland wher enlarged, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys when irritated or congested, invigorates the sexual organs, and restores health and soundness to every part of the body affected by the disease.

Contagious Blood Poison.

My special form of treatment for this disease is practically the result of my life work, and is indorsed by the best physicians of this and foreign countries. It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicines of any kind. It goes to the very particle of impurity. Soon every sign and symptom disappears completely and forever. The blood, the tissue, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed.

Nervo-Sexual Debility. My cure for weak men stops every drain of vigor and builds up the muscular and nervous system, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses and heals the bladder and kilneys, invigorates the liver, revives the spirits, brightens the intellect, and above and beyond all, restores the wasted power of sexual manhood.

Reflex Diseases.

Many aliments are reflex, originating from other diseases. For instance, private weakness sometimes comes from Varicoccie or Stricture, innumerable blood and bone diseases often result from contagious taints in the system, and physical and mental decline frequently follow lost manhood. In treating diseases of any kind I always remove the effect as well as the cause. Correspondence.

One personal visit is always preferred, but if you cannot call at my office write me your symptoms fully. My home treatment for correspondents is always successful. I make no charge for private counsel, and give to each patient a legal contract in writing, backed by abundant capital, to hold for my promise. Physicians havis stubbern cases are cordially invited to corsult me. Address all letters to
